

AN UNDESIRABLE CONSULATE

One in Paraguay Which Takes a Year's Salary to Reach.

SECRETARY WHITNEY RECOVERS.

Complaints Being Made Against the Public Printer on Account of Delayed Work—National Capital News.

A Hard Post to Fill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The appointment of Frank D. Hill, of Minnesota, as consul at Asuncion, Paraguay, makes the fourth attempt which the state department has made to fill this position since the present administration began. In November, 1880, Frederick Elliston, of Indiana, was appointed. He made some inquiries and found that the climate was so unhealthy that Americans found it difficult to live there, consequently he declined the offer of the place and it remained unfilled until November of the same year, when Samuel A. Walton, of Kentucky, was offered the place and nominated for it, but he, too, declined last March. Rule Letcher, of Missouri, was anxious to represent his country as consul and he was appointed to Asuncion. Now he has grown tired of the place and resigned. One of the difficulties in the way of filling the office is the fact that the salary is so small and the expenses of reaching the post so great that it is very undesirable place from a financial standpoint. The salary is only $1,500 a year, with an allowance not to exceed $300 for office rent, while the cost of the trip for a single person is $400, and if the consul has a wife and child he cannot get them to his post for less than $1,000 at the lowest estimate.

Secretary Whitney Back.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—It is announced this evening that Secretary Whitney has recovered from his illness and that he will return here in a few days. His residence is being put into shape for his reception. This announcement has brought out a statement by a gentleman who knows the secretary well that Whitney has not been ill but has been in New York looking after the election.

Fred Grant's Chances Good.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—What do you think of the prospects of the election in New York tomorrow? was the question addressed by the Bee correspondent to a well known member of Tammany hall this afternoon.

"There is but one opinion on that subject as far as I can see," was the reply. "I was in New York last night and the impression which I gleaned there was that Fred Grant will certainly be elected and the prospect is that a majority of the republican ticket will follow suit."

"To what you attribute this state of affairs?"

"It is very simple. Tammany is anxious to elect some of its men to local offices. To do this she will knife the state ticket and votes for Grant will be openly traded for votes for local candidates. This will be done because in New York politics it is every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. Besides this, since the death of John Kelly, Tammany has had no leader, and as a result it is simply impossible for the leaders to keep the rank and file of the organization in line. Tammany has had no leader, and as a result it is simply impossible for the leaders to keep the rank and file of the organization in line. Tammany has had no leader, and as a result it is simply impossible for the leaders to keep the rank and file of the organization in line."

Pensions Issued.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The following pensions have been granted to Nebraskaans: Louisa Lesperance, former widow of S. L. Brink, Lehigh, Pa.; George W. Farrow, Fairmount; Charles F. Murray, Lincoln. Increase: D. B. Clark, Kearney.

Kicking About Beneficial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—There is complaint at the war department, or rather the engineer's branch of that office, on account of the delay of the public printer in executing certain work laid before him long ago. It is said that the report of the engineer, written over a year ago, has not been printed yet, although the work has been placed in the hands of the compositor. Those interested in the work say the delay is due to a desire on the part of the public printer to favor a Democratic printing house in New York, where the maps and drawings are to be executed.

This report is to contain about 150 maps and drawings, and its delay for the purpose of congress in the compilation of the river and harbor bill during the last session of congress. Of course there would be no sense in publishing it now, as the day of use is in the past. It can be of no avail now, and money spent in the work will be money wasted. The printing office has had one thing, and that is to make the printer suffer for the delay and great loss of money it must entail whether it is now published or not, there would have been such a democratic loss as was never heard before. The most reprehensible part of this favoritism and delay is that there was no bidding for the work, but it was given out with a pump and simple desire to favor an administration organ.

Military Matters.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—First Lieutenant George B. Backus, First Cavalry, has been granted one month's leave.

Captain James M. Marshall has been assigned the duty as assistant to the chief quartermaster.

Second Lieutenant Daniel B. Devore, Twenty-third Infantry, has been granted twenty days' leave.

Lieutenant Murray, First Artillery, has been assigned to duty as judge advocate of the Department of Missouri.

Lieutenant General Sheridan has approved the plans for the artillery and cavalry post of Fort Riley, Kan. The plans were presented to General Sheridan by Captain George E. Pond, of the quartermaster department, this morning.

Regimental orders of the Ninth Infantry have been issued announcing the death of Captain Samuel Munson, of that regiment.

A general court-martial has been ordered to convene at Fort Lowell, Ariz., on November 10, for the trial of First Lieutenant Charles R. Ward, Tenth Cavalry.

First Lieutenant James A. Maney and Second Lieutenant John Potter, Fifteenth

THE CROW FOOT CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The war department has received through General Terry advice from General Rucker under date of Crow Agency, Mont., November 5, corroborating in the main the facts of the fight as mentioned in the press dispatches. The casualties on the soldiers were one corporal killed and ten privates wounded. The behavior of the troops was excellent.

The secretary of the interior late this afternoon received a telegram from Indian Inspector Armstrong at Crow Agency, saying the refractory Indians had all been delivered and were in the guard house, but one. He will be delivered to-night. No more trouble need be feared. General Rucker agrees with the agent in the suggestion that the prisoners be sent to Fort Snelling at once and held until further disposition is decided upon.

National Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—The following Iowa men were today admitted to practice before the interior department: John Hagerly Lozier, of Mt. Vernon; Joseph B. Crawford, of Clinton; Sherburne G. Hopkins and Arthur B. Sperry, of Iowa City. Chief Justice Waite the initiation "infernal machine," are to be prosecuted on the charge of sending unmailable matter through the mails.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—Commodore L. Thompson was today appointed postmaster at Des Moines, Iowa, and Vice James L. Coffinville resigned.

Democrats Going Home to Vote.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—It is stated at the treasury department that all the democratic clerks in that department from New York, Maryland and Virginia have gone home to vote at the election tomorrow. It is stated that the clerks of republican provinces seem to show little, if any, interest in the election. Assistant Secretary Maynard, Solicitor McCue and Second Assistant Butler are among the prominent treasury officials who have gone home to vote.

The West Point Academy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—In the report of the board of visitors to the military academy at West Point the management of the institution is highly commended and no change is recommended in discipline, but improved accommodations in the way of buildings, water and lights are considered desirable.

ST. JOSEPH'S WATERWORKS.

The Water From the New Reservoir Turned on Yesterday.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 7.—[Special Telegram to the Bee.]—In response to an invitation the mayor, city council and city officers repaired to the St. Joseph waterworks today to be present at the turning of the third reservoir of the company. By its completion the waterworks company fulfills its obligation to the city. The new reservoir is 300 feet long, 200 feet wide and 20 feet deep and has a capacity of 6,000,000 gallons. It is situated on the east side of the city, and the water can be raised to the city by means of a pump. The reservoir was turned on yesterday.

A Closed Bank.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—The Fifth National bank closed its doors today. R. Rosenthal, Joseph Specht and Marcus Wolfe are directors of the bank. The latter has brought two suits against Rosenthal aggregating $71,000. The failure of the bank has caused a panic in the city. The bank had a capital stock of $500,000. The deposits amounted to about $400,000. On Friday they had to meet a heavy run and the depositors continued to withdraw their funds to the bank closed its doors a few minutes before 1 o'clock. The president of the bank has been sick some time and the management has been entirely in the hands of the directors, some of whom now appear to be quite heavily indebted to the bank. The bank had several firms in this city to some degree and three concerns whose names have not been reported are reported to be heavily indebted to the bank. The deposits will be paid in full. Within the last month the stock of the bank has been sold at $1.00, and this morning it found a ready market.

The Fire Record.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 7.—The partially completed Mortimer apartment house, together with three residences adjoining, burned to the ground early this morning. The Mortimer was eight stories high and was to have been ready for occupancy December 1. It would have been the largest and most expensive apartment house west of New York city. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin. The Mortimer was owned by F. Mortimer, whose loss is estimated at $100,000. Insurance $80,000. Loss on the three dwellings $15,000, with $3,000 insurance. The fire broke out in the second story, spreading to the other stories. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Sudden Death of a Railroad Man.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—George Straut, director of the Chicago & Alton railway, died suddenly this morning from some affection of the heart. Mr. Straut left the Palmer house in ordinary good health to go to the offices on Dearborn and Monroe streets. He entered the elevator and without a word fell to the floor. He was found by the director's office on the second floor and laid on a lounge where, after gasping once or twice, he expired.

Steamship Arrivals.

Boston, Nov. 7.—Arrived—The Catalonia, from Liverpool.

New York, Nov. 7.—Arrived—The Florida, from Liverpool, and the France from London.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Arrived—The Holland, from New York.

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 7.—Arrived—The Elbe, from New York, for Bremen.

Weather Indications.

For Nebraska: Fairly warmer, fair weather, light to fresh variable winds, generally shifting to southerly.

For Iowa: Fair weather, winds becoming light and variable, slightly warmer, except in extreme southern portion, colder.

For Eastern and Central Dakota: Warmer, fair weather, except in extreme northern portions, followed by local rains or snow, with fresh southerly winds, shifting to westerly.

An Insane Murderer.

QUINCY, Nov. 7.—Gas Lambert, aged twenty-five, suddenly became insane this morning and before he was apprehended had cut the throats of his wife, child and himself so badly that it is doubtful if any of them will recover.

The Death Record.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—General Joshua T. Owen died this afternoon. He rendered distinguished military service on the union side during the war.

Cut to Death by a Train.

LA SALLE, Ill., Nov. 7.—An unknown man was cut to pieces by an Illinois Central train this morning four miles south of here.

TO-DAY'S ELECTIONS.

The Candidates and Questions on Which Various States Will Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The election to be held in this state today is for the governor, lieutenant governor, comptroller, attorney general, state treasurer, state engineer and surveyor and members of the state legislature, together with local tickets in this and other cities. There are elements in the canvass which make forecasting on the result a difficult matter. The difficulty lies in the fact that there are five state tickets—democratic, republican, united labor party (or Henry George), progressive labor (or socialist) and prohibition.

A Victory For Henry George.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The supreme court today decided that the united labor, or Henry George party, is entitled to an election in the state, which has been going on in the state, and which lies in the fact that the democratic and republican parties are to be sworn in. It is said the democratic commissioners will move to dismiss O'Brien from office.

Richmond Prepared For Battle.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 7.—The very exciting political campaign, now being going on in Virginia for the past few months will be closed to-morrow. The real contest is for 100 members of the house of delegates and nineteen state senators. On the result will depend whether the democratic domination in the state shall be continued, or whether the combination of reformers and republicans shall come into power. The incoming legislature will also elect a United States senator to succeed Senator Riddleberger.

What Iowans Are to Vote For.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 7.—The election to-morrow in Iowa will be for governor, lieutenant governor, supreme judge and a superior court judge, and a number of public officers, also for members of the general assembly, who will vote for a senator to succeed James F. Wilson.

Warrants For Illegal Voters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Between four hundred and five hundred warrants for arrests of illegal voters in this city to-morrow are now in the hands of the officers.

A RACE ROW.

Negroes Shot Down by Troops at Pattersonville, La.

PATTERNSVILLE, La., Nov. 7.—Trouble has been threatening in this neighborhood for some time past. The negroes have been talking freely of burning Pattersonville. It is stated that one who is now a prisoner has made a full confession of a plot to burn the town which was to have been carried out on Saturday night. The shooting and wounding of four white men. Phil's plantation Friday decided the authorities here to institute a search for arms in the town and at the same time to arrest several men who had made themselves most conspicuous by the loudness and ferocity of their threats. Troops were quartered on steamboats along the river, and the negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told that they were to be shot down. From there Saturday afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock the Attakapas rangers, together with a posse of citizens, partly of this neighborhood, and partly from the town, moved on the town. At the entrance to the town stand two cottages, that on the right occupied by a white man, and that on the left by a negro. The negroes were told